WHEN ECONOMIC GRIEVANCES BECOME IDENTITY THREATS

Jide Okechuku Nzelibe

Professor of Law, Pritzker School of Law, Northwestern University

Affiliated Faculty, Ford Motor Company Center for Global Citizenship

The relationship between individual and systemic (or social) conceptions of justice in the preview does connect with my research, as my work explores how what starts out as low-stakes individual claims for justice among narrow economic groups may sometimes bleed over into claims about threats to one's national or social identity.
